THE cultural "thaw" in the East European countries does not proceed at equal speed everywhere. In Bulgaria, and even more in Rumania, are concerned there is reason to doubt whether there is any "thaw" at all. In Poland, still some fairly attached to most fields. In Poland and Hungary, on the other hand, progress has been faster than most observers dared to expect. Czechoslovakia and East Germany are somewhere in the middle between these two extremes. In Poland the dogma of "socialist realism" has at last been abandoned by some leading writers. The writings and speeches reproduced in such periodicals as "Nowa Kultura" and "Przegląd Kulturalny" are as adventurous as those published in any East European journal. The two avant-garde groups for our conservative taste.

IN Hungary, Gyula Hay, the leading playwright has just completed the "Literary Gazette" of Budapest (September 2) that all literary censorship be eliminated. "We want absolute liberty in literature," writes this veteran Communist author, "the most complete liberty which can be achieved by human beings living in a society. We want the writer to be able to speak the truth, criticize whatever he chooses, be happy or unhappy, believe in the omnipotence of God, disbelieve the official statistics or think as a non-Marxist if he chooses." Elsewhere, "Magyar Nemzet" demands the publication of works by Kafka, Proust, Huxley, Michael Károlyi (who died as an émigré in Paris). The Bible is also on this list.

THESE demands are of considerable interest because they are not voiced by outsiders but by the leading cultural figures of the regime. These men have not given up despite all the charges of "rightist deviationism" and "rotten liberalism." On the contrary, the main "deviators" have recently been elected by an assembly meeting in the Hungarian Writers' Union.

IN East Germany they have rediscovered Freud, who until very recently was banned and in the Soviet Union continues to be even now, what a sad rag is said to be a bull. But now the East German Communists have published a book on Freud, which they say that he was at all one of the leading figures in the late period of enlightenment. And the September issue of the Soviet literary magazine "Zvezda" has a fruitful influence on literature which should not be underestimated and helped greatly in the psychological development and explanation of figures in the realist novel. And it is regrettable that this whole aspect "has hitherto been ignored by the literary critics." In Czechoslovakia the situation is somewhat different. The mood of the writers and artists does not seem to have been greatly affected by the prevailing pressure for far-reaching reforms in the cultural field. In Prague, and the party authorities, the party authorities, the Stalinist element still prevails, have not found it too difficult to intimidate the intellectuals.

IT is difficult to say exactly where Soviet culture stands at this picture. The situation in Moscow is still very much in flux. Soviet literature is now being rewritten and one has to wait for the finished product. There appears to be little change in Soviet literature, and no change in Soviet painting, a field where change would be welcome. Soviet music on the other hand has made great strides, and almost anything Western up to Hindemith and Milhaud is now accepted, with the sole exception of Schoenberg. One still waits for an overall general pattern to emerge before passing judgment. London, September 28.

Poland Ousts 2 Top Officials Over Poznan

WARSAW, Sunday (APF). — It was officially announced here today that the Deputy Minister of Mechanical Industries, Mr. Roman Wladislawski, and the Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Trade, Mr. Demidow, had been relieved of their posts.

The decision is interpreted as a consequence of unrest and strikes in Poznan last June. The two Ministers were at the time responsible for the negotiations with workers of the Zisto (Stalin) plant. An expert on mass psychology will give evidence here tomorrow in the trial of three young men charged with murdering a security policeman during the Poznan riots on June 28.

Sociologists' Evidence
He is Professor Josef Chasinowski of Warsaw University. Also in court will be the eminent sociologist, Professor Tadeusz Szturkowski, of Poznan University, who gave evidence yesterday and may be recalled by the defense.

Defending counsel has also called for the appearance of an Assistant Professor at Poznan University who, according to Professor Szturkowski, yesterday told a public meeting at the University that on June 28, a security policeman shot a woman at the railway station when she shouted at him, "Give us bread, you bandits!"

The three accused — Josef Politynski, Karol Jurek and Jerzy Jurek — are alleged to have been in the forefront of an infuriated mob which beat, kicked and battered a 25-year-old security policeman to death because he was said to have killed a woman and two children.

Nine Others Tried
Meanwhile, in another court, the trial of nine young men and youths accused of stealing arms and attacking a security policeman holding up a train, will begin tomorrow, October 2.

Hungarian Fuel Shortage Hits Homes, Industry
VIENNA, Sunday. — Hungary's major fuel crisis has hit homes, industry and agriculture, according to reports reaching here today. A central transport council has been set up to control all stocks of oil and petrol, but with no coal supplies from both Eastern and Western countries, and more coal and oil promised, the authorities believe the worst of the crisis will be over in three weeks.

Train Service Halved

Official announcements over the past few days show that passenger traffic by rail has been halved with 600 trains taken out of service and more than 1,000 lorries and 200 buses have been taken off the roads.

Lack of coal for gas making is threatening a severe gas shortage in Budapest where there were already insufficient supplies for industrial and household use.

There are serious repercussions in industry and agriculture. The Deputy Minister of Agriculture has announced an acute shortage of tin plate and rolled steel goods.

The Ministry of Agriculture has said that lack of oil is holding up harvest work and the autumn ploughing and sowing.

Tito Meets Bulganin In Talks at Yalta

LONDON, Sunday (Reuter). — President Tito of Yugoslavia today met the Soviet Premier, Marshal Nikolai Bulganin, and Mr. Nikita Khrushchev, the Soviet Communist Party chief, near Yalta, Moscow Radio reported.

The radio said that the meeting was the first since Tito's visit to Moscow in 1955. Also, there is disappointment in authoritative quarters here that the Bulgarian Communist Party delegation, which arrived a week ago, has so far failed to express the regret and joint responsibility for the 1948 Cominform dispute. Instead, its leader, the Bulgarian party's First Secretary, Mr. Todor Zhivkov, has tended in his numerous speeches to emphasize traditional friendship and cooperation, as if there was no need to make amends.

Moscow Radio reported today that President Tito and Mr. Khrushchev had lunch aboard the Soviet cruiser, Admiral Nakhimov, in Sebastopol Bay. The radio said the two leaders inspected the cruiser and the ship's company. They had their photographs taken with members of the crew.

The cruiser flew President Tito's standard and a Yugoslav flag. The radio said that the two leaders had a long conversation. It was feared that the Bulgarians, and perhaps other East European parties, might go back on the admissions generally made in Eastern Europe in the early summer of 1955 in the wake of Stalin's guilt in waging the Cominform campaign against Yugoslavia.

In Washington, yesterday, the State Department denied that Secretary of State Dulles had threatened to cut off aid to Yugoslavia if Marshal Tito moves closer to the Soviet camp. But the Department said Mr. Dulles recently sent a letter to Tito, reminding her of congressional action on continued aid to Yugoslavia.

Congress ordered such a cut unless President Eisenhower decides by October 16 that it is in the American interests that aid should be continued.

1 Dead, 4 Hurt As Tremor Hits Tokyo

TOKYO, Sunday. — One fatality and four seriously injured were counted early today as the Tokyo area was shaken by following the worst earthquake of the year.

The earthquake, which lasted for 60 seconds at 3:21 a.m. local time, cracking the concrete foundations of houses, destroying one, and sending the inhabitants running from their homes in a panic. Street traffic in Tokyo was suspended for about 10 minutes during the morning rush hour due to a power breakdown.

Four small fires from electrical short circuits were quickly extinguished.

The Government Meteorological Station located the epicenter of the quake about 100 km. north of Tokyo, near the tip of the Choshi Peninsula. It registered an intensity of four on a scale of seven. Experts said that what saved the city from serious damage was the fact that the quake was some 40 km. below the surface of the earth.

Japan Plans Output Of Military Planes

TOKYO, Sunday (Reuter). — The Japanese Defense Board has drafted a production plan for the construction of 1,500 military aircraft within the next year.

A board spokesman said that most of the aircraft now being handed over to Japan's three defense services were of U.S. origin. As the Japanese aircraft industry was still unable to produce aircraft plans to meet defense demands, the Board believed the Government should grant financial aid to the industry.

Indonesian Navy To Recognize Israel

Indonesian Navy never recognizes Israel because it is a tool of Britain and her allies as a bridgehead for the expansion of their imperialistic aims in the Middle East," the Indonesian Ambassador to Egypt told "Al-Ahram," the Cairo daily, yesterday.

Sukarno in Peking On State Visit

PEKING, Sunday (Reuter). — Dr. Achmed Sukarno, the Indonesian President, was greeted by Mr. Mao Tse-tung, Chairman of the Chinese People's Republic, upon his arrival here today for a state visit. He is to be the guest of honor at China's national day celebrations tomorrow.

In a speech at the airport, President Sukarno said that the two countries should work together for "peace, prosperity and progress." Also on hand to meet him was a recent visitor to Indonesia, Madame Boon Ching-ling, the widow of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, the "father of modern China."

Dr. Sukarno, who is the first non-Communist head of state to visit the Chinese People's Republic, then drove to his hotel in a motorcade. He was seated beside Mr. Mao Tse-tung.

The road was lined with an estimated 500,000 persons clapping and cheering. The passage of the Presidential car. Along the whole route to Peking, there was not a single soldier to be seen, and comparatively few traffic police.

More than 2,000 Peking workers turned out at a rally yesterday to welcome visiting Arab workers' delegations from Egypt, Syria, Jordan, the Lebanon, Saudi Arabia, the Yemen, Kuwait, Iraq and Libya. Mr. Luo Jo-yu, President of the All-China Trade Union Federation, welcomed the delegates.

Visitors have been pouring into Peking airport this week-end for the celebrations as guests of the Chinese Government. In the space of less than half-an-hour yesterday, four planes landed "foreign friends" to watch a giant parade of 500,000 men.

Among those who have already arrived are the Premier of Nepal, Mr. Tanka Prasad, former Chief Minister of Singapore, Mr. David Marshall, a Singaporean Malay trade delegation which has been touring the country and about 250 Japanese.

It is expected that the remaining delegates from 56 Communist parties who have been attending the eighth Chinese Communist Party congress in Peking.

Uruguayan MP's on 9-Day Visit

"May Uruguay's relations with Israel set an example to the rest of the nations of the world," Mr. Yosef Sprinzak, the Knesset Speaker, said in Jerusalem last night at a gala dinner.

The delegation arrived by El Al on Saturday night for a nine-day visit to the country at the invitation of the Knesset Speaker.

They include Senator Angel Maria Cusano, a leader of the "El Debate" newspaper; Deputy Dr. Glauco Segovia, a 25-year-old advocate, an outstanding personality of the "young guard" of the Battista Party and Chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee in the House of Representatives; Deputy Dr. Jose Luis Morales Arilla, of the Partido Nacionalista; and Mr. Alberto Mane Garcon, secretary to the delegation. Mr. Garcon who is a member of the "Independencia" newspaper, is also Secretary to the Senate Foreign Affairs Committee.

5th Member Leaves

A fifth member of the delegation, Deputy Luis Eliezer Gumbardella, Chairman of the Finance and Banking Committee in the House of Representatives, is expected to arrive in a few days. Senator Luis Treccol, who preceded the rest of the delegation to Israel, was forced to return to Uruguay last Tuesday.

Mr. Sprinzak last night recalled the warm welcome accorded to the delegation in a Parliament in June 1955, when he visited that country as a guest of the Government.

He noted that in a relatively short time Uruguay had overcome "the obstacles of the past" to become a free and democratic country. "Many can learn from this country," he said, "including ourselves in our efforts for the State of Israel."

Senator Cusano replied for the delegation by the Uruguay Government. He said that the delegation was in Israel to study the work of the State of Israel and to learn from its experience.

No Change In U.S. Policy On Arms to Israel

The Foreign Ministry spokesman said last night in answer to a question that there has been no change in policy regarding the supply of arms by the U.S. to Israel.

He recalled that there has been no American embargo on selling arms to Israel, and that now as previously licenses are required for such purchases.

An INA report from Washington yesterday said the Washington "Evening Star" reported that the State Department has lifted its embargo on arms to Israel last week, including the issue of licenses for the shipment of "routine arms."

The composition of the shipment is secret, but it is believed that they are more than "routine," the paper added.

The article went on to say that both Britain and France are also reported to be sending arms to Israel without any official announcement. This is in addition to the sale by Canada of 24 Sabre jet fighters announced last week.

The paper concluded that there is no question that in the event British and French forces take action against Egypt, the strong, well-equipped Israeli Army will more than counter-balance the arms support which the Egyptians and the Syrians have received from East European countries.

ASKS ARMS FOR ISRAEL

LONDON, Sunday (Reuter). — The "Observer" today argued in favour of a policy for providing sufficient defensive arms to Israel to ensure her security in the face of strong Israeli retaliation raids would estrange her supporters.

"We have said before that it should be one of Western policy to see that Israel is sufficiently armed defensively to make her extermination impossible. We recognize in Israel a sister heretofore, and we hope that the Israelis realize how much more closely the West feels bound to them in a sisterhood which has been the West's policy since the Suez Canal campaign, the paper declared.

"But it would not be in Israel's interest to adopt an opportunistic policy over the Arab dispute. It would suit only in provoking greater Arab hostility without any compensatory strengthening of our implicit alliance."

It is understandable that Israel is a sister heretofore, and we hope that the Israelis realize how much more closely the West feels bound to them in a sisterhood which has been the West's policy since the Suez Canal campaign, the paper declared.

Curfew Maintained In 'Greek' Nicosia

NICOSIA, Sunday (Reuter). — The curfew on the Greek quarter here entered its third day today.

One hour's freedom was given yesterday for shopping and buying food, but this concession is not being granted today as shops are shut. The curfew will be lifted for an hour tomorrow.

The curfew was imposed on Friday evening following the murder of two British police officers in Nicosia's centre street. Foreign correspondents have so far been refused passes to enter the curfew zones.

In Paphos yesterday, several masked men armed with automatics entered a coffee shop here and ordered all customers to stand with their hands up.

The leader of the masked gunmen then silently produced a piece of paper on which was written, "All traitors will be shot," and ordered a customer to read out. After making him repeat the short message, the gunmen walked out.

In Nicosia yesterday, today, Mr. Hugh Galtschell, leader of the opposition Labour Party, appealed to the British Government to bring Cyprus back to the United Kingdom, and to London for negotiations on the future of the island.

LONDON, Sunday (UP). — Britain announced tonight that all 18 nations invited to participate in the third London Suez conference tomorrow to expedite formation of the Suez Canal Users Association.

The Foreign Office said that all the nations invited had accepted invitations to the session, which will try to settle the waterway dispute, and want the S.C.U.A. ready to operate by the time the U.N. Security Council ends its Suez debate.

The first order of business for the delegates of the 18 nations is to deliver the views of their respective governments on joining the S.C.U.A. Several nations have announced acceptance of the invitation to tomorrow's talks do not commit them to membership of that body.

French Kill 16 Rebels in Algeria

ALGIERS, Sunday (UP). — French security forces are reported to have killed 16 insurgents and wounded one in clashes with two rebel bands during the past 24 hours in the valley of Oued Bou Selman, in eastern Algeria. This brought to more than 200 the number of insurgents slain since last Monday.

Bombs thrown into two downtown Algiers cafes tonight wounded 40 persons. There were no deaths.

Officials here said that there was no doubt that the National Liberation Front was stepping up its efforts to follow the optimistic statement by the Resident Minister in Algeria, Mr. Robert Lacoste, that the Government's Algerian policy would show "highly significant results" by the end of October. The revolt enters its third year on November 1.

Mr. Lacoste on Friday night told the French public in a television broadcast that, "by the end of October, we shall have achieved not a general solution of the Algerian problem. I never said that — but a number of highly significant measured results which will not allow anyone to mistake France's intention to bring about in Algeria a peaceful, equitable and French solution."

Saar Joining Germany Jan. 1

BONN, Sunday (Reuter). — West Germany will gain about one million new inhabitants when the Saar returns to her politically on January 1, under agreements reached here this week-end between French Premier Guy Mollet and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

The year of negotiations which followed the October 23, 1955, plebiscite has now produced an agreement whereby the Saar becomes part of the German state on January 1, 1957. Its economic union with France will gradually be dissolved till January 1, 1958. It will enter the West German economy.

The agreement also specifies that France will be entitled to 30 million tons of coal over the next five years from the Saar coal fields, whose shafts are sunk on the French side of the border. After this period, France retains the right to exploit a restricted area in the Warndt, ensuring a yield of 46 million tons over 20 years.

Thirdly, the Moselle River is to be made navigable, linking the French industries in Lorraine with the river Rhine. Of the cost, estimated at 550m. marks, West Germany is to provide 300m. marks and France the rest.

Iraq, Syria Pledge Aid to Jordan

The attack on the Husan police station in Jordan by Israeli forces last Tuesday night set off a round of hurried Arab consultations over the week-end and yesterday on the diplomatic, military and governmental levels.

The meeting called on Saturday night in Baghdad to discuss the Jordan border situation. It was attended by the Jordan Foreign Minister, Awad Abdul Hadi, the Iraqi Chief of Staff, General Rafik Aref, and the Iraqi Deputy Foreign Minister, Ahmed Mukhtar Baban. ANA announced yesterday.

The meeting lasted for five hours and, according to the Jordan Foreign Minister, decided on a programme of Arab military aid to Jordan. Abdul Hadi also announced that he had postponed his return to Amman, scheduled for today, till Wednesday.

In Amman, the Syrian Deputy Chief of Staff, General Abdul Karim, had an audience with King Hussein and the Commander of the Arab Legion, Major-General Ali Abu Nawar, to discuss the co-ordination of Jordan and Syrian forces in the event of further Israeli retaliations. Ramallah reported last night.

The radio broadcast that the army commanders of the four Arab countries which have armistice agreements with Israel — Jordan, Egypt, Syria and the Lebanon — will meet in Damascus next week to discuss Israel's alleged aggression and joint action in the event of further Israeli attacks on Jordan.

Colonel Mohammed Saadi, head of the Jordanian delegation to the Mixed Armistice Commission, left Amman by air for Cairo last night to represent Jordan at an emergency meeting on the Israeli-Arab border situation in the Egyptian capital today, to be attended by all Arab M.A.C. delegations.

Cairo Press Maintains Myth of Husan

The latest "Arabian Nights" tale from the Husan battle appeared in yesterday's "Arabian Nights" of Cairo, which stated that the bodies of "dozens" of Israeli soldiers killed in the attack on Husan police station were taken to Israel on Friday through Mandelbaum Gate.

The Old City daily, "El Jihad," reported yesterday that the Jordan authorities have decided to rebuild the Husan police station, completely demolished in the attack.

Traffic was resumed on Saturday on the Old City-Bethlehem road for the first time since the shooting at Ramat Rahel, in which four Israeli civilians were killed and 18 wounded, the paper reported.

In Paphos yesterday, several masked men armed with automatics entered a coffee shop here and ordered all customers to stand with their hands up.

Burma Ratifies Israel Economic Agreement

Jerusalem Post Reporter. — The Burmese Parliament on Saturday ratified by a large majority the treaty of economic co-operation with Israel, which was signed in Jerusalem last night. Only the extreme left opposition voted against it, but even they spoke in favour of strengthening ties of friendship with Israel.

The treaty bill was introduced by the Minister of Trade Development, Mr. U Tin, who in his presentation praised Israel's achievements and progress.

Mr. Moshe Sharett, the former Prime Minister, and Foreign Minister, just visited the area in the Sinai states where Israel and Burma will jointly implement the treaty. The project foresees the cultivation of large tracts of land for wheat.

A survey team will leave Jerusalem shortly for the area to begin work on the project.

Suez Canal Issue Dominates 59th Labour Party Parley

BLACKPOOL, Lancashire, Sunday (Reuters). — The British Labour Party will open its 59th annual conference here tomorrow with a flat-out-and-out attack on the Conservative Government over its handling of the Suez Canal crisis.

Mr. Hugh Gaitskell, the Party chief, will open an emergency resolution condemning the Government's methods. This resolution conference sources disclosed was prepared yesterday as 1,500 delegates representing the 3.5 million member Opposition party crowded into this vast seaside resort for the week-long convention.

Socialists of all shades from right-wing to extreme left expected the conference to differ sharply from most of its post-war predecessors. Since the Party met a year ago—Earl Attlee's last as Prime Minister and Labour leader for 30 years, has stepped down in favour of Mr. Gaitskell who at 50 is a generation his juniors.

In the interval, too, the passionate internal discussions which had split the Labour ranks and according to some, Socialists lost the 1955 general election—appear to have been brought under control.

Dr. David E. Price, Assistant Surgeon-General, also disclosed that the record among the children who have received the vaccine has been "awfully good," although some did get polio. A sharp drop in new cases last week provided strong evidence that the year's epidemic had been passed. So far there have been 11,503 cases compared to 21,761 for 1955.

Visitors' Gallery

By MOSHE LEVIN

Jose Guevara spent 11½ last week on picture post cards showing Israel's big buildings and luxurious hotels to prove to his newspaper colleagues back in the Philippines that he had not indeed come to a "hillbilly country."

He said that he felt Israel was certainly a part of Asia, if for no other reason than that its people had been "colonized" for so long as a miller. There were plenty of grounds for establishing firmer ties between the two countries since the aim of both was "independence with dignity."

Mr. Guevara said he had just received answers to questions he put to Prime Minister Ben-Gurion. He asked how does the Prime Minister see Israel's role in Asia? How in his opinion can other Asian countries help Israel overcome the problems facing her and how can Israel help other Asian countries?

Hitler's Successor Leaves Jail Today; Bonn 'FBI' Alerted

By OMER ANDERSON

BONN, Sunday. — Germany's "FBI" is strengthening its watch on the Neo-Nazi movement in anticipation of the release from Spanish prison tomorrow of ex-Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz.

Doenitz is a double-barreled cause for concern to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government. The ex-grand admiral is Hitler's legal successor as chief of the Nazi Reich. He is also the first of the seven Nazis given medical parole by Spandau after the Nuremberg war crimes trials to have served out his full sentence—10 years.

Canadian Saboteurs with Canada's emblem, the maple leaf, on the fuselage are shown above. They are of the type that is being sold to Israel at the rate of four monthly.

Israel, Oil After Suez

TORONTO, Sunday (UP). — The United States has no real understanding of the nature and complexity of the problems in the Arab world, said Brigadier C.H. Dewhurst, former Director of Military Intelligence in the Middle East for the British Army. He said U.S. policy in the Middle East was not at all times and deplorable in many.

Jose Guevara spent 11½ last week on picture post cards showing Israel's big buildings and luxurious hotels to prove to his newspaper colleagues back in the Philippines that he had not indeed come to a "hillbilly country."

He said that he felt Israel was certainly a part of Asia, if for no other reason than that its people had been "colonized" for so long as a miller. There were plenty of grounds for establishing firmer ties between the two countries since the aim of both was "independence with dignity."

Mr. Guevara said he had just received answers to questions he put to Prime Minister Ben-Gurion. He asked how does the Prime Minister see Israel's role in Asia? How in his opinion can other Asian countries help Israel overcome the problems facing her and how can Israel help other Asian countries?

German Requisition Before Supreme Court

In the first stage of a revived lawsuit originally settled 30 years ago by a Paris court, Mr. Heinrich Steinberg, a resident of the Natanya Old Age home, was granted an order nisi from the Supreme Court against the Custodian of Enemy Property. The Custodian was ordered to show cause why he should not pay the petitioner out of German assets in this country the equivalent of 50,000 Goldmarks which he had been awarded in 1926 by a German-Rumanian tribunal. Steinberg said in Paris after World War I under the provisions of the Treaty of Versailles. Mr. C. Boasman, appearing for the respondent, asked the Court to postpone Return Day by a month in order to enable the Custodian to contact the Bonn Government through diplomatic channels.

Mr. Steinberg's original claim arose from the requisition of a number of railway cars by the German authorities in Rumania in 1919. He won his claim for damages and accrued interest of 5 per cent per annum, but never received it.

The present German Government, Mr. Steinberg stated, had not denied the validity of his claim, but had deferred payment until clarification of West Germany's responsibility for the Weimar Republic's debts and the exchange rate between Goldmarks and Deutsche Mark. The Court was composed of Justices Agranat, Silberg, and Sussmann. (Times)

Mr. Ish-Shalom also said that the first half had already been completely underwritten by the Government, and that the Government would guarantee the second half.

Enough Work Till Year's End in Negev

BEERSHEVA, Sunday. — A bright picture of the short-term employment prospects in this town and in the Negev was painted at a Press conference here today by Mr. Baruch Nagev, District Manager of the Ministry of Labour. In his opinion, there will be no unemployment here at least until the end of the year. At present, about 1,000 labourers are picking cotton, 300 of whom are from Beersheva. Cotton harvesting had made it necessary to divert 500 workers from Jewish National Fund projects.

Later this month, picking will start on 4,000 dunams of groundnuts.

Mr. Baruch added that there will not be a third crop of cotton in the Negev this year, and doubted that there would even be a second crop. The cotton fields of some settlements in the Western Negev had suffered badly from the Spiny bollworm, and it is expected that this crop will be 50 per cent of last year's.

Gov't May Subsidize Hotels' Income

Jerusalem Post Reporter

An arrangement with local hotels whereby they will receive a Government subsidy or a guarantee on the tourist trade is expected to be agreed upon this week, it was learned yesterday in Jerusalem.

The subsidy might be up to $1,000,000 in the coming year.

The hotel owners will have to publish their 1955-56 price schedules this month. Hoteliers say expenses rose 15 per cent last year, but that higher prices would cut their trade. They have, therefore, asked the Government to subsidize their net added income.

It is understood that the Finance Ministry and the Government Tourist Corporation favour such aid in principle, but that differences of opinion exist on how to extend it.

His Story Was Too Good

Jerusalem Post Reporter

An unusually accurate description of an armed hold-up has been given by a witness with 23, to being captured by the police with having given false testimony.

Davidovitch told the police on Thursday night that he had been held up by two men in Rehovot, near Rehovot, in Jerusalem, and robbed of $123. He gave a detailed description of his assailants, stating that one of them had pushed a gun into his back and said, "Don't move or you'll get a bullet." Police immediately began combing the city and set up road blocks in search of the two men.

In the morning, Mr. Eliezer Shilon, Head of the Criminal Investigation Division, supplied a list of the names of Davidovitch, who admitted almost immediately that he had lost the $123 playing cards.

He was released on bond and charged with having given a false declaration to the police.

Haifa Labor To Stop Emigration To SEVERE SHARAV KEEPS FIRE FIGHTERS BUSY

Jerusalem Post Staff

HAIFA, Sunday. — Members of the Haifa Fire Brigade who returned from fighting the big fire in Ya'arot Ha-Azhar at only 4.30 this morning, had a busy day because of the fierce shower in the Haifa area, with exceptionally little humidity in the air.

They had to cope with 11 brush fires in Ya'arot Ha-Azhar, Mount Carmel, Haifa Tower and the bay area. In a brush fire in Rehov Hori, a fire broke out when the refrigerator gave way under the strain of fighting the heat. There was also a house on fire in Kfar Ata.

The shovels kept Tel Aviv firemen busy today when they were summoned to six fires in Tel Aviv and nine in the Petah Tikva district. All of them were brushwood blazes. Included in the Petah Tikva area fire was one in Givat Hashlosha which destroyed 100 beehives. All the fires were prevented from spreading and were finally extinguished.

A waste paper warehouse covering an area of two and a half dunams in Tel Aviv was completely destroyed by fire at 11 o'clock tonight. The Tel Aviv fire brigade sent eight engines to prevent the blaze from spreading to the nearby huts of new immigrants.

Water Rates Rise In Nahariya

Jerusalem Post Reporter

NAHARIYA, Sunday. — The Nahariya Agricultural Co-operative, which owns the local water works, has decided to raise the water rate by 20 per cent from tomorrow. The co-operative has informed the public that the increase was necessary because of increased costs, taxes and wages.

Mayor G. Tatz disclosed today that the Local Council did not agree to the rise. It had requested the Water Authority to examine the co-operative's books. He thought that the whole question of water rates could only be settled satisfactorily if the Local Council had a hand in deciding Nahariya's water supply.

Mr. R. Mark, Manager of the co-operative, said that he was in constant touch with the Government and would welcome an examination of its books. It had voluntarily offered to give the Council a voice in running the water department, he said.

Ex-Police Officer Complains to B-G

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV, Sunday. — Mr. Ze'ev Steinberg, until recently a senior police officer in Tel Aviv, today wrote to the Prime Minister claiming that he had been dismissed because of his involvement in the Amos Ben-Gurion-Shurast Hamitnadiv case was not favourable enough to the Deputy Inspector-General of Police.

Mr. Steinberg said in his letter that he had served in the Police Force for 20 years, and that he had been dismissed after he made a statement under oath at the request of Mr. Amos Ben-Gurion's lawyer.

The statement, Mr. Steinberg said, apparently did not find favour with his superiors, for he was told by them, including the Inspector-General of Police that "he had talked too much about Amos Ben-Gurion."

Mr. Steinberg informed that his detention was not connected with this statement, he had never been tried in court, but a smear campaign action had been conducted against him by some newspapers, he claimed. I want to be tried in court. I have done something wrong, he said, and he wrote to the Prime Minister.

On July 26, it was reported that Mr. Steinberg, the Assistant of Police Superintendent in the Tel Aviv area, was dismissed from his post by the Minister of Police on the grounds that he had been involved in the underworld beyond what his job called for.

Police headquarters announced then that although sufficient evidence had been brought to light to make Mr. Steinberg's dismissal desirable, there was not enough evidence to warrant the opening of criminal charges against him.

The spokesman said the government was indifferent to the problem of the industry.

The death rate from many other causes for persons who never smoked is very low, the report is said to disclose, while the rate for pipe and cigar smokers is only slightly higher. Embassy Upsets Tel Ganim 21-6

In the softball season's biggest game, the American Embassy team won 21-6 against Tel Ganim and racked up a 21-6 victory on Saturday at the Ramat Gan Macadam field. Vera Benson turned in a beautiful game in pitching the Embassy team to its fifth straight success. He allowed only seven hits and two singles on bases, and runners were unearned. The U.S. Embassy collected only eight base hits off the services of Lou Verdon and Ronnie Suddath, who relieved Verdon in the sixth inning. However, six misplays by Tel Ganim in the field and four trips, Price, likewise, got on base every time he was up at bat, but the Embassy short stop drew five bases on balls.

There are no games scheduled next Saturday, due to the softball ban at Z.O.A. House, but the following week, a double header will be played in Tel Aviv. Timorim will face Tel Herut in the first game and in the second contest, which will not count in the League standings, Tel Ganim will attempt to reverse Saturday's loss to the American Embassy.
